

Appendices

Appendix 1: Play behaviours.

EPISTEMIC PLAY BEHAVIOUR	LUDIC PLAY BEHAVIOUR
Is concerned with acquisition of knowledge and problem solving	Is playful, is fun
Gathers information	Is lacking on specific focus
Is exploratory	Is highly mood dependent
Is productive	Has constraints which are imposed by the child
Discovers	Does not need to involve adults
Is invention, task or work orientated	Requires that adults should be sensitive to children's needs
Is relatively independently of mood state	Can be changed by intensive intervention
Needs adults to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Support - Encourage - Answer questions - Supply information - Be involved 	Has the key features of enjoyment and fantasy
	Is unconstrained
	Is symbolic
	Is repetitive
	Is innovative.

(Hutt, C. 1979)

Appendix 2: Picture of an umbrella without the fabric part.

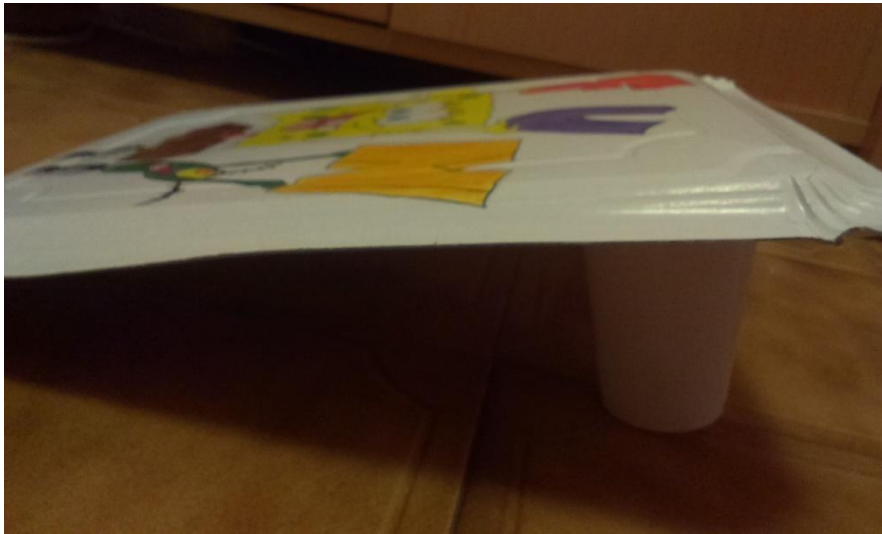

Appendix 3: Foot, hand and finger units of length measures.

Appendix 4: Small slide

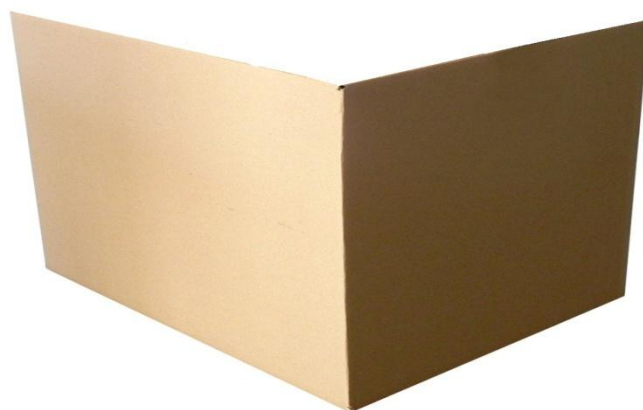

Appendix 5: Big slide

Appendix 6: Train picture

Appendix 7: Image of a box with two sides joint.

Appendix 8: Beach drawing

Appendix 9: Monster head and parts of the monster

Appendix 10: The storyteller book

