5.Methodology, learning tasks, syllabus and resources

5.1.Methodological overview

The learning process designed for this course is an active method based on the independent learning of the student. The main characteristics are as follow:

- Motivation for learning.

25227 - Protected areas

- Learning step by step, with increasing difficulty.
- Practical application of the theoretical concepts.
- Encouragement of independent learning of the student.
- Development of skills in: searching of information, research, data analysis...

5.2.Learning tasks

The learning activities are based on the independent learning of the student under the supervision of an academic tutor. In this sense, the student will receive frequent tutoring from his academic tutor.

As a previous step the student will complete an initial proposal detailing the contents of the undergraduate dissertation. From this proposal, the final document will be elaborated and deposited in electronic format and on paper. Finally, the student will present his work, by an oral presentation, before an academic tribunal.

5.3.Syllabus

No specific program is provided because the contents of the undergraduate dissertations are diverse.

5.4.Course planning and calendar

This course requires 300 h of individual work of the student (12 ECTS).
