

66700 - Master's Dissertation

Syllabus Information

Academic Year: 2019/20

Subject: 66700 - Master's Dissertation

Faculty / School: 103 - Facultad de Filosofía y Letras

Degree: 328 - Master's in Land and Environmental Planning

ECTS: 12.0

Year: 1

Semester: Annual

Subject Type: ---

Module: ---

1.General information

1.1.Aims of the course

.

1.2.Context and importance of this course in the degree

.

1.3.Recommendations to take this course

.

2.Learning goals

2.1.Competences

.

2.2.Learning goals

.

2.3.Importance of learning goals

.

3.Assessment (1st and 2nd call)

3.1.Assessment tasks (description of tasks, marking system and assessment criteria)

.

4.Methodology, learning tasks, syllabus and resources

4.1.Methodological overview

The methodology followed in this course is oriented towards achievement of the learning objectives. The student develops a practical case of territorial and environmental planning. The student will have to establish a method of work and a planning, offering a technical contribution to the society.

4.2.Learning tasks

There will be a session to explain the requirements, tasks and results of the Master's Dissertation, as well as the period in which it must be elaborated and presented. The basic activity that is offered to the student is continuous tutorship for the topic selection, working plan, application of methods and techniques, draft and correction of the dissertation, evaluation of conclusions and preparation of the oral defense.

4.3.Syllabus

There is no program for this course

4.4.Course planning and calendar

The beginning of the preparation of the Master's Dissertation is postponed until the last months of the academic year. At the end of the Master's, the students will be required to write and present their Master's Dissertation (July, October or December).

4.5.Bibliography and recommended resources

There is no bibliography for this course.