4.1.Methodological overview

The Master's Dissertation is an original piece of work that promotes student autonomous work. Therefore, there are not lectures or practice sessions in this course, only tutorials.

The students will be distributed in diverse workshops, according to Master's Academic Commission. The dissertations will be developed under the supervision of a teacher of the Master's, specially those specialized in Architectural projects, Urbanism projects and Architectural Composition. Likewise there will be supervisors of another areas, as construction, structures and facilities.

4.2.Learning tasks

The course includes the following learning tasks:

- Workshops. Individual and collective criticism sessions. It is recommended to participate in all workshops.
- Tutorials (up to 30 hours). Students have technical supervisors (construction, structures, facilities), which are coordinated with other tutors.
- Criticism and review session. There will be a session when students submit the dissertation as well as a final defence with a committee.
